Highlights of the webinar

Session-1

Key Speaker- Dr. Indu Gautam (Assist. Prof. Deptt. of Commerce)

First of all webinar host, Mr. Vivek Kumar Tyagi presented a welcome note and introduction of the guest followed by a brief introduction to the webinar. After that Dr. Indu Gautam started her address on the topic and she expressed her concern over the problems which have been faced by the students as well as faculty while online-teaching or during e-lectures. She talked about the technology constraint as many of the students still do not have smart phones, some have connectivity issues. One way communication or lack of much interaction may create barrier in teaching and learning of the students. She also spoke about the process of online teaching like the use of technology has completely eliminated the distance barrier between teachers and students. Moreover these lockdown period days have given us all a chance to explore more insights and new means to communicate with students by using technology.

She also suggested various measures that should be adopted by teachers to make this interface interesting while maintaining the quality aspect like having quizzes, giving assignments to students, having some big social groups for healthy online discussions, categorizing different groups of students as per their grasping power. In the end of the first session, students raised their queries about this online teaching platform.

Session-2

Panel Discussion-

In session 2, a panel discussion was conducted.

Panelists were Dr. Indu Gautam, Dr. Poonam Sharma (Assist. Prof. Jain Kanya Degree College, MZN), Dr. Pankaj Kumar (HOD), Dr. Aditya Gautam.

Dr. Aditya Gautam started the discussion with his address showing concern over the impact of this lockdown has on the lives of people. He also highlighted on the brighter side of this lockdown period that strengthens our relationship with family members while working from home. He quoted various examples from our scriptures to give us the hope that it is just a phase and we should well utilize this time by being positive, practicing yoga, working on our immune systems by being happy.

Dr. Poonam Sharma was convinced with the talks of other panelists and congratulated all the students and faculty members to share their views and raises queries on this contemporary issue.
