A Report on

6 Days Workshop on "Human Values and Professional Ethics"

Shri Ram College, Muzaffarnagar organized a 6 days workshop on "Human Values and Professional Ethics" from 04/07/2016 to 09/07/2016 at SRC Auditorium under the kind patronage of Dr Roupal Malik, Deptt of Fine Art, SRC.

During the inaugural speech Chairman Dr SC Kulshreshtha emphasized the need for exploring new ways of different dimensions in the individual, in the society, in the family and in any organization as a whole. He said that the students are still in confused state, though they have vast experience through their 20 years of academic career. Only trained people have to take up the main responsibility to guide and lead them in the right direction.

Acharyas are those who practice well and show them in action. Teachers are to be the role models for the society. Their efficiency reflects in the society. Healthy competition must be established for a healthy society. Addressing on purity and impurity, he stressed that priority must be given for purity to lead life happily. The word 'I' is nicely associated with our physical pleasures to fulfill our needs, but he stressed the difference between human beings and animals, explaining the evolutionary process of human beings.

Another speaker Dr Aditya Saini said that worrying about future adversely affects our present. We are working hard for our daily needs in future, thinking of our past. It decides our victory. No one can deny the need of human values in present education system, but how to inculcate them in children remains as a million dollar question. Misunderstanding is the main cause of anger. So problems should be solved through debate and discussion in friendly atmosphere. A teacher is transformed like a magnet with his self discipline. Unforgettable knowledge in subject turns out to be wisdom and is useful for fellow beings. Finally, for whatever we want to earn, first we should be aware of what it is about and how to utilize it.

Desires are not infinite but their presence is continuous and they follow us. Unless we have positive response to our problems, we lose our wisdom. What we are losing in the present society is peace. We are very happy when we do our work with better understanding. Logic is not a tool for problem solving. If we lose our wisdom, it leads to indiscipline.

The base of harmony in society is harmony in family for which the base is harmony in the human being. At the individual level, unhappiness is more due to lack of fulfillment in relationship. Most of our time and effort is spent for physical facility. Effort should be made to equally divide our time and effort for body and relationship.

Even the education setup should empower independent thinking, impart holistic inputs, proper understanding and facilitate the development of the competence to live with Definite Human Conduct.

The session focused on dividing the self into two components. One component having Realisation & Understanding, the other having Desire, Thought and Expectation. Whatever we want to do, we should go by the first component and not directly by the second. For that we need to put a Proposal and check whether it is Naturally Acceptable leading to Mutual happiness. If our desire passes through these i.e. it is naturally acceptable and leads to mutual happiness and we can proceed further. Or else we need to avoid it.

This entire session is lively, stressing the need for self awareness. Time and again, he pointed out that he was not meant to give any solutions to problems, but only to show a better way to peaceful life.

This session started with 'I'. Then it changed to, 'We'. Self assessment is main motto of this lively session. Every one's inbuilt power and ability is equal by birth. Internal interaction with everybody is happiness. We can keep away unresolved problems by maintaining good relations.

'Unconditional love in truth should be the main purpose of education. Love is eternal. We must follow it. Though everyone wants to reform; only the teacher can reform. He is the only person who can satisfy the quest of students.

The teacher must have a clear idea to understand human relations. He has to feel every Karma. What he discharges is according to justice, legitimacy and truth. Having simplicity, clear thinking and realising one's strengths and potential is important. After every autumn, spring comes. A new Samaskaram has to be born naturally and must be inculcated in the young minds.

The Workshop witnessed the presence of the expert speaker, Mr. B.N. Pandey, esteemed Director Prof. Aditya Gautam, Mrs. Neetu Singh, Dr. Prerna Mittal. The program started with the opening remarks of Prof. (Dr.) Alok Pandey and followed by the expert speaker Mr. B. N. Pandey, Prof. Alok Pandey highlighted the corruption prevalent in the Indian society and advised students to avoid stepping on other's feet.

Around 51 faculties took part in the workshop and the focus was on the awareness of the need for Human Values and Professional Ethics. Expert Speaker introduced the participants to the Holistic Development and Role of Education in Life and its application in solving the problems of life. The primary goal of the session was to give the exposure and understanding of how values give worthiness and respect to life. In the end, Ms. Rupal Malik, coordinator of the workshop concluded the session with "Vote of Thanks" to the august gathering.

8 Days Workshop on "Human Values and Professional Ethics"

Shri Ram College, Muzaffarnagar organized a 8 days workshop on "Human Values and Professional Ethics" from 08/07/2018 to 15/07/2018 at SRC Auditorium under the kind patronage of Dr Roupal Malik, Deptt of Fine Art, SRC.

The workshop was very successful. As the society has been facing many kinds of problems today - corruption, exploitation, and violence in society, strife in family, and lack of satisfaction in the self, and the workshop proved very relevant. What are the current problems a reflection of? The source of current problems seems to be an emphasis on physical facilities, glamour, consumerist lifestyle, and a false sense of satisfaction in competition and one-upmanship (neighbours envy - owners pride). The focus on the external things leads to ignorance about the concerns of the self. It leads to a blind race for wealth, position and jobs. Many times, in spite of achieving ones goals, the individual remains dissatisfied - jobs and positions that are intellectually and mentally unfulfilling, and wealth that breeds chaos in family, problems in society, and imbalance in nature.

Physical facilities are needed to lead a proper life, however, there is a need to examine how many physical facilities are needed and what is their role? It is also important to ask the question - besides physical facilities, what else is important in human life? The lack of attention to relationships leads to strife in the family, in spite of all the worldly successes. It is the human relationships and human values that are a source of our perennial happiness. We all possess the human values inherently, and what is needed is to bring them out in each one of us.

The workshop addressed the self in the human being. It drew attention to human needs - need for human relationships, inherent desire to seek knowledge, and the joy that we naturally derive from these. In our current situation, we might be seeking different things. Thus, it brings about a dialogue between what we are and what we want to be. It does not posit happiness in an after-world, but here and now, based on "humanness" common to all human beings. The approach is rational, secular and universal.

Experiences of earlier Workshops

The approach is holistic, covering a large canvas, and it has made a tremendous impact on people from different walks of life. Some experiences are given below. Although, the concern of each of the groups is different, what they realize at the end is that there is a need for human values and relationships and that is founded upon the knowledge in the self.

The workshop has led to a major rethinking among the students. They have been reflecting on what their goals are, the place of money in life, the joy one derives in relationship, and in seeking knowledge and not merely on jobs and the money they get out of it. They have become relaxed in their self, and become more sensitive to relationships with their friends and family, and regarding society and nature.

Along with giving better performance in academics since they attended the workshops, an increasing number of students are volunteering to work for the all-round development of themselves and the society around through a collective effort. Some of these students were on academic probation, on the verge of termination or sluggish in studies (according to them) before they started coming to the workshops. Now they are not only performing well academically, but have become assets to the society at large. The faculties who attended the workshops are also showing consistent interest to participate in the workshops and associated activities. A regular course is being planned to be floated for the students of SRC very soon.

UP State Government has started implementing this in all its schools for class 1-12 since 2008. There are 30,000 schools, 1,00,000 teachers and 58,00,000 students/year. The UP initiative has received wide support from teachers and government officials in SCERT and Department of Education. So far 30 schools have started teaching this in classes 1-5. All these elements have been put in place in UP involving SCERT, school board, the schools and, most importantly, the teachers. The text books are ready. All the officials are fully involved at all the steps. A massive program of teacher training is going on using EduSat which connects 100 centers followed by face to face in-depth week-long workshops. In the UP initiative, in place besides the physical targets, sensitivity and self-awareness aspects are being given great attention by the leadership. Even media which is usually quite critical of government programs has been speaking positively about it. It enjoys a large tacit support from different sections of society because it is seen to be a positive step with fresh air in an otherwise difficult education scenario.

People from different walks of urban life

People from different walks of life are affected by the workshop. Many realize the lack of time they give to their family in their relentless pursuit of wealth, and even more importantly, the way they behave with their children, spouse or old parents. Many such people are affected profoundly and come back to further workshops with their family members, again and again.

One of the speakers shared that the workshop touches criminals in jail most directly. Those who are seething with revenge, slowly start realizing that in fact their "enemies" are not bad. They are to be pitied and not hated. In turn, they themselves get depressurized and relaxed. This eventually gets reflected in their day to day behaviour with other jail inmates and with jail authorities. Bilaspur jail experience shows that some of the most violent criminals with also the worst behaviour inside the jail got totally transformed.

Farmers and rural folk

Rural folk today are in a state of demoralization. They are being told that they are backward, and need to be developed; that they are ignorant and do not know what is good for them; that they need to study English and IT without which there is no future. The present political structure and political parties has led to a breakdown of the community decision making. High powered marketing along with TV has led to a loss of community life and led them to yearn for Pepsi and the "luxury of city life". They do not realize what they possess - clean air, clean water, and a stronger possibility of a wholesome life with fulfilling relationship in family and community.

Experience of rural people who attend the workshop has been that they feel a sense of empowerment regarding themselves and what they can do at their own place. Rather than treating farming as an unworthy activity, they see value in what they are doing. The importance and necessity of physical labour for all, comes out as a corollary.

Established business men who have done the workshop have taken up sustainable or "zero-input" farming where all the required resources for farming is generated from farm land itself. Several experiments in renewable energy are also in full swing. They are deriving happiness out of farming and physical labour.

People with spiritual background

People with spiritual background usually take time to come to terms that one can talk about "human values" without bringing in elements from mystery or unknown. Many are elated at this discovery. People from different faiths - Hinduism, Buddhism, Sikhism, Islam, Christianity - have started getting deep into a process of selfexploration after doing the workshop, and are able to see that the human values can be derived through this process of self exploration by each one of us and are the same as professed by their respective faiths.

What this workshop IS and what it is NOT

The Workshop is not a course in moral science. It does not tell you DOs and DONTs. It does not tell you what you should become, or what you should do. (It only seeks to connect you with your Self and encourages you to seek answers within self.)

The workshop does not talk about rewards and punishments in an after-world. (The goal is happiness here and now. It puts forward the proposition that the basic human values are inherent and intact in all of us, what is needed is to be aware of them. When we follow what is innate in us, we derive joy and happiness. The listener is free to do self investigation and self exploration and come to his own conclusions.)

Muzaffarnagar

The workshop does not say physical facilities are unimportant and must be shunned. It rather talks of prosperity in every family. (It says that there is place for facilities in life and encourages people to fix their place in their own life. This also requires separating needs from desires generated by TV and consumerist culture, where the irony is that accumulation of wealth is accompanied not by a sense of fulfilment but by a sense of depravation, The workshop presents this aspect forcefully.)

The workshop is not the representation of an organization or society. It does not insist on any specific faith or any specific belief. (It only proposes and asks its listeners to investigate and explore into their own inner self and connect to what is innate and intact in all of them as something which is universal, natural and all fulfilling for them as well as others. They can do this irrespective of their own religion or faith or beliefs.)

During the closing ceremony speech Chairman Dr SC Kulshreshtha said that Teachers are to be the role models for the society. He said that priority must be given for purity to lead life happily. He emphasized upon the need for exploring new ways of different dimensions in the individual, in the society, in the family and in any organization as a whole. of relationships, and of self. 4. Benevolence. Preserving and enhancing the welfare of those with whom one is in frequent personal contact Student Saurabh Pandey pursuing BCA, shared that after implementing Human Values in my life and in relations I came across some very important changes in my life. I started observing and analyzing my thought process and I was able to concentrate more. I used to take 40-45 minutes to learn and understand any topic, now it got reduced to 25-30 minutes. Now physical facilities are on third priority, firstly right understanding and secondly good relations with others. He further told that my anger for people got reduced. I am able to differentiate between intention and competence of others. Now I don't blame any one for their intention rather I try to understand their competence and also help them to improve it. This subject has brought a positive change in me and in my behavior towards others.

Another student of B.Com Renuka Rastogi expressed that this is my feed back after attending the evening session of workshop on "Human Values". After attending the workshop, firstly I am able to shift my focus from physical facilities to right understanding and relationship and secondly I am able to maintain good relationship with others.

Before attending the workshop my goal of life was to live for 100 years and spend my whole life to earned money, because since our childhood we learned physical facilities are very important to live happily but after going through the workshop I am able to understand "Right understanding and relationships has highest priority to live happily rather than physical facilities". I am totally surprised but when i verify this statement at my home, i found it true. we all have only one goal that is "Happiness and Prosperity".

Now, I'm working on my thinking process and decided to attend the workshop again.

Mr. Vikas Kumar, student of BSc (Bio Sc) told that I was in 2nd year when I have heard about this course. I saw a Book of 'A Foundation Course in Human Values' in his hand came to me and asked sir "do you have any idea about this". I took that book in my hand and turned few pages of the same but I was unable to understand why this! On the 3rd and 4th day of workshop we had a discussion on harmony in self and family. After that discussion I came to know 9-values from TRUST to LOVE. I was satisfied that I have gained something that will help to achieve my ultimate desire of continuous happiness. The biggest achievement of this workshop was that at least now I was able to answer the question that why I have joined Engineering. My answer to this question now is my ultimate desire is to be happy and continuity of the same which can be completed if I have right combination of Right understanding, Right Relationship and physical facilities and now in engineering I have started working for all the three things which I needs to achieve my ultimate desire.

In the last I would like to thank entire team of "Human Values". I have no words to express my gratitude towards entire team of "Human Values."

Another participant Ms. Shweta told that before attempting the workshop, I did not know about the value education and in the absence of it I feels uncomfortable and I did not satisfy with my life style. I just search the satisfactory and live the every moment without full enjoyment. I faced many of the problems without the value education such as I used to be suddenly angered and took a wrong decision. That was my weakness point. I believed in various paradoxes which was psychological problem. I did not know myself while wanted to know about myself. I usually gave the importance to the money and thought money can solve the problems regarding the happiness. So I used to ignore my family and spending some moments together.

During workshop, When I heard about the workshop then I thought it may be just waste of time but I was excited to know that how the workshop changes the people. And thus I attempt the workshop. In the starting of the workshop when the Gopal Sir asked me to tell about myself and am I know that who am I? Then I just thought that what I am in actually and what I want to be in future. Many of the experience are happened in the workshop and were feeling good and relief. There were many answers of my questions regarding the life. The workshop experience was nice like to heaven for human.

After the workshop, many people put their feedback and I also as hearing about the thoughts of the people I feel that the workshop has good efficiency and the response is to be got in positive way to gain the happiness life .There were new changes in my nature. I feel that all my problems can be solved and it's awesome. I used to give new way of view to circumstances and easily solve them. Now I do not give importance to the money and feel the sorrow of the human. I realized that anyone get access their life in the way of happiness mode but it can be possible through the HVPE .

- I want to form a group or team for the awareness of value education in both the areas rural and urban.
- I give the priority to the villages to be developed so I want to do the workshop in villages.
